What is ECI?

Early Childhood Intervention (ECI) serves families with children, birth to 36 months, with developmental delays or disabilities. ECI partners with parents to develop ways to help their children grow and learn. The state agency responsible for ECI services is the Department of Assistive and Rehabilitative Services (DARS). DARS contracts with local ECI programs to provide services throughout Texas.

Whom should you refer?

Refer Texas families, who have children under 36 months old with a suspected developmental delay or disability.

What are developmental delays?

Developmental delays refer to when a child's development lags behind established normal ranges for his or her age in any of the following areas:

- cognitive
- gross motor skills
- fine motor skills
- language or speech
- social or emotional
- self-help skills

What if a child has a medical diagnosis?

Children also are eligible if they have a medically diagnosed physical or mental condition that has a high probability of resulting in delays and demonstrates a need for services. These conditions include, but are not limited to:

- Down syndrome and other chromosomal abnormalities
- sensory impairments, including vision and hearing
- microcephaly
- failure to thrive
- seizure disorders
- fetal alcohol syndrome
- cerebral palsy

What if a child's development seems on target, but there are concerns?

Children who may perform within their appropriate age range on test instruments, but whose patterns of development are notably different from their peers, are also eligible.

When should you refer?

Refer as soon as you or the family has a concern about the child's development. A diagnosis is not needed to refer. State law requires that professionals refer children for services within two working days of identification of a suspected delay.

Why refer?

ECI provides needed support to families regarding their child's delay or disability. The earlier children with delays receive help, the better. Well designed, timely early intervention can enhance the child's development, provide support for the family, and provide long-term benefits for society.

How much do services cost?

Families may be charged on a sliding fee scale for some ECI services. All ECI screenings and evaluations are provided at no cost to families, however, families may be asked for permission to bill their insurance. No child and family will be turned away because of an inability to pay.

How can you refer?

Use this directory to locate the ECI program near the family or call the DARS Inquiries Line at 1-800-628-5115.

What happens after you refer?

After referral for ECI services, a child is evaluated by a team of professionals to determine eligibility for ECI services. The team includes the child's family and ECI program staff members who have professional experience in a variety of fields, such as child development, education, motor therapy, speech-language pathology, or social work. If the child is not eligible for ECI services, staff will refer the family to other resources.

If a child is eligible for ECI services, as determined by a medical diagnosis, atypical development, or developmental delays, program staff and the child's family will develop an Individualized Family Service Plan (IFSP). The IFSP outlines ongoing services for the child and the family. Services begin after the IFSP is developed and signed by the parent.

What is ECI's unique service approach?

Parents and professionals work together as a team.

Families know their child best. The team assesses the child's progress and develops a plan for services.

Services are convenient for families. Services are provided to families and children in familiar and comfortable surroundings where children live, learn and play. This may include the family's home, child care center or other community settings.

Children learn new skills through everyday activities. Team members from a variety of professional disciplines work with the family to identify learning opportunities and to include intervention in their everyday activities such as bath time, meal time, or play time.

Services are coordinated with others in the community. ECI works with doctors, child care providers, Women, Infants, and Children (WIC), social services, schools and other community partners to help meet the needs of children and families.

What professionals may work with you and your child?

Professionals in ECI have expertise in working with babies, toddlers, and their families. Licensed and/or credentialed specialists include:

- Early Intervention Specialists
- Speech Language Pathologists
- Physical Therapists
- Occupational Therapists
- Registered Dietitians
- Professional Counselors
- Hearing and Vision Specialists
- Social Workers
- Nurses

What services does ECI provide?

ECI Services may include:

- family education and support
- services from speech language pathologist occupational and/or physical therapists
- audiology and vision services
- nursing and nutrition services
- case management

What is the ECI provider network?

ECI services are offered in all Texas counties through contracts with more than 50 local community agencies and organizations.

What types of agencies make up the ECI provider network:

- Mental Health and Mental Retardation Centers (MHMR)
- Education Service Centers
- School Districts
- Nonprofit Organizations

¿Qué es ECI?

Los programas de Intervención Temprana en la Infancia (ECI) brindan servicios a las familias de niños con retrasos en el desarrollo o discapacidades, desde que nacen hasta los 36 meses. ECI colabora con los padres para encontrar maneras de ayudar a sus hijos a crecer y aprender. El departamento estatal a cargo de los servicios de ECI es el Departamento de Servicios Auxiliares y de Rehabilitación (DARS). El DARS tiene contratos con programas locales de ECI para ofrecer servicios por todo el estado de Texas.

¿A quién se debe dar un envío a ECI?

Envíe a ECI a las familias de Texas con hijos de menos de 36 meses que tengan un posible retraso en el desarrollo o una discapacidad.

¿Qué es retraso en el desarrollo?

Hay retraso si el desarrollo del niño está por debajo de los niveles normales establecidos para su edad en cualquiera de las siguientes áreas:

- cognoscitiva lenguaje o habla
- habilidades motoras gruesas
- socioemocional
- habilidades motoras finas
- habilidades de autoayuda

¿Qué pasa si el niño tiene un diagnóstico médico?

Los niños también llenan los requisitos si tienen un padecimiento físico o mental médicamente diagnosticado que tenga una alta probabilidad de causar retraso, y demuestre la necesidad de recibir servicios. Estos padecimientos son, entre otros:

- Síndrome de Down y otras anomalías cromosómicas
- Déficits sensoriales, incluso de la vista y la audición
- Microcefalia
- Retraso del crecimiento
- Trastornos convulsivos
- Síndrome alcohólico fetal
- Parálisis cerebral

¿Qué pasa si el desarrollo del niño parece normal, pero hay alguna inquietud?

Los niños que en las pruebas tienen resultados apropiados a su edad, aunque sus patrones de desarrollo sean diferentes de los de sus compañeros, también llenan los requisitos.

¿Cuándo se debe enviar a un niño a ECI?

Envíe a un niño a ECI tan pronto como usted o la familia tenga una inquietud sobre el desarrollo del niño. No se necesita un diagnóstico para enviar a un niño a ECI. La ley estatal exige que los profesionales envíen a los niños a servicios dentro de 2 días laborales después de encontrar un posible retraso.

¿Por qué hay que enviar a un niño a servicios de ECI?

ECI brinda el apoyo que las familias necesitan para tratar el retraso o la discapacidad de su hijo. Entre más pronto reciban ayuda los niños con retrasos, mejor. Una intervención bien diseñada, oportuna y temprana puede mejorar el desarrollo del niño, brindar apoyo a la familia y aportar beneficios a largo plazo a la sociedad.

¿Cuánto cuestan los servicios?

Quizás se le cobre a la familia algunos servicios siguiendo una escala variable de pagos. Las familias no tienen que pagar nada por los exámenes y las evaluaciones de ECI. Sin embargo, es posible que se les pida permiso para cobrar a su seguro. No se rechaza a ninguna familia o niño porque no pueda pagar los servicios.

¿Cómo se puede enviar a un niño a servicios de ECI?

Use este directorio para encontrar un programa de ECI cerca de la familia o llame a la Línea de Información del DARS al 1-800-628-5115.

¿Qué pasa después de hacer el envío?

Después de enviar a un niño a ECI, un equipo de profesionales le hará una evaluación para determinar la elegibilidad para recibir servicios de ECI. El equipo incluye a la familia del niño y a personal del programa ECI que tiene experiencia profesional en muchos campos, como desarrollo infantil, educación, terapia motora, patología del lenguaje y del habla o trabajo social. Si el niño no llena los requisitos para los servicios de ECI, el personal le recomendará otros recursos a la familia.

Si un niño llena los requisitos para servicios de ECI porque tiene un diagnóstico médico, desarrollo atípico o retrasos en el desarrollo, el personal del programa y la familia del niño formularán un Plan Individualizado de Servicios para la Familia (IFSP). El IFSP describe los servicios continuados para el niño y la familia. Los servicios empiezan después de que se formule el IFSP y de que lo firmen los padres.

¿Cómo es el método único de servicio de ECI?

Los padres y profesionales trabajan en equipo. Las familias son quienes conocen mejor a sus hijos. El equipo evalúa el progreso del niño y formula un plan de servicios.

Los servicios son convenientes para las familias. Los servicios se prestan a los niños y las familias en lugares cómodos y familiares donde los niños viven, aprenden y juegan. Estos son, entre otros, la casa de la familia, un centro de cuidado de niños u otros entornos en la comunidad.

Los niños aprenden nuevas habilidades por medio de actividades diarias. Los miembros del equipo de una variedad de disciplinas profesionales trabajan con la familia para identificar oportunidades de aprendizaje que formen parte de las actividades diarias, como la hora del baño, de la comida o de juego.

Los servicios se coordinan con otros participantes en la comunidad. ECI trabaja con doctores, proveedores de cuidado de niños, el programa para Mujeres, Bebés y Niños (WIC), servicios sociales, escuelas y otros socios en la comunidad para satisfacer las necesidades de los niños y sus familias.

¿Qué tipo de profesionales trabajarán con la familia y el niño?

Los profesionales de ECI tienen experiencia trabajando con bebés, niños pequeños y sus familias. Los especialistas con licencia o credenciales son, entre otros:

- Especialistas de intervención temprana
- Patólogos del habla y del lenguaje
- Terapeutas físicos
- Terapeutas ocupacionales
- Dietistas registrados
- Consejeros profesionales
- Especialistas de la audición y de la vista
- Trabajadores sociales
- Enfermeras

 - servicios de audiología y de la vista
 - servicios de enfermería y de nutrición

Tipo de agencias que están en la red de proveedores de ECI:

- Salud mental y abuso de sustancias y centros de retraso mental (MHMR)
